

Workshop for Wome*n: Living in your own skin

October 31st, 9am-5:30 pm

Join us for a day full of discussions and insights on skin health and skin tones in Nigeria at the Goethe-Institut Lagos.

Have you ever reflected on the way you think about skin and skin tones? Or on how you talk about your own skin? During our Women's Workshop "Living in Your Own Skin", we will discuss these topics and many more!

Renowned dermatologist Dr. Cole-Adeife @foladermadoc will give you valuable insights on how to care for your skin and answer your skin related questions.

In the afternoon, you will have the opportunity to discuss personal experiences you have made based on your skin tone with other participants. This discussion will be led by Olabanke Goriola, a PhD student from Northwestern University, USA, who is doing research on colorism in the Nigerian entertainment industry.

Do you want to be a part of this workshop?

Send an e-mail by October 18th with a short motivational statement to sfb1482.kommunikation@uni-mainz.de or fbrinker@uni-mainz.de.

We look forward to your application!

A transportation fee and lunch will be provided.

About Melanin Matters: The "Melanin Matters" week is a collaboration between the Goethe-Institut and the Collaborative research centre (CRC) Human Differentiation at the Johannes Gutenberg-University of Mainz with its project "Melanin Matters: Skin tone politics in Nigeria and beyond".